Samuel Goldfield

(732) 309-8920
sam@rutgers.io
samgoldfield.com

Product, design, and front-end developer with over 4 years of experience.

EXPERIENCE

Access Control Group, Cranbury, NJ — Product Intern

November 2016 - February 2017

- Q / A and wireframing for iOS, Android, and web apps
- Led development on new projects and met deadlines
- Made UI / UX designs and templates
- Used emerging technologies

Rutgers Course Sniper, Piscataway, NJ — Developer

October 2013 - September 2016

- New York Times article (https://nyti.ms/2mxhMem)
- Provided AWS and DNS support and scale
- Frontend and version control

Wolfram Research, Champaign, IL — Intern

January 2016 - July 2016

- Lectured on Mathematica programming language and its API
- Machine learning and virtual reality concepts

VICE Media, New York City, NY — Data Visualization Contract

May 2015 - July 2015

- Implemented a Python-based Google and YouTube API visualization
- Met with VP of product, engineering team, and growth team

EDUCATION

Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ — Bachelor of Science

Graduated January 2017

Studied computer science concepts and languages. Placed on Dean's List for Academic Achievement. Was an employee of Rutgers Computing Help Desk and VP of Hack RU.

SKILLS

Understand Client Needs

Version Control / Git

Compassionate

Microsoft Suite

Adobe Suite

HTML / CSS

JavaScript

Sketch

Swift

AWARDS & HONORS

Dean's List for Academic Achievement

New York Times article regarding Rutgers Course Sniper

1st Place MLH 2015 Season North America

Vice President Hack RU, 2014-2015

LANGUAGES

English

Russian